Efi Papastylou : President Of Philanthropy International Organization

'If you do things well, do them better. Be daring, be first, be different, be just.'

Helping unconditionally is like loving unconditionally.

Help and love have no borders. Because nobody has the right to be happy alone.

I am a person of integrity, committed to helping the poor, especially children, youths and women. I strongly believe that a successful businessperson must always feel the heartbeat of society.

After years of carrying out philanthropic actions abroad, I have returned to my home country to begin supporting those in need.
